DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-17 are pending in the application.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement filed September 27, 2004 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(2), which requires a legible copy of each cited foreign patent document; each non-patent literature publication or that portion which caused it to be listed; and all other information or that portion which caused it to be listed. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

Specification

3. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is more than one paragraph and more than 150 words. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by JP 2002-36457.

JP '457 discloses a multilayer film comprising a substrate film, a hard coat layer containing a (meth)acrylate compound; an electrically conductive layer containing electrically conductive particles and a resin layer containing a fluorine compound (machine translation paragraphs [0006] and [0007]). The resin layer has fine irregularities on the surface and an arithmetic average surface roughness Ra ranging from 0.003 μm to 0.025 μm and the surface of the resin layer of the multilayer film has a reflectance of less than 2% and a haze of less than 3% (machine translation paragraph [0008]). The substrate film contains a polymer containing one selected from the group consisting of ester, an olefin, an acetate, styrene, a carbonate, a sulfone, ether ethyl ketone, an imide, fluorine, a nylon, an acrylate, and an aliphatic olefin (machine translation paragraph [0009]). The electrically conductive layer has a thickness of 0.01 μm to 1.0 μm , contains a metal oxide and a conductive particle content of 70% to 90% by weight (machine translation paragraphs [0015] and [0045]). The fluorine compound contained in the resin layer has an alkoxysilyl group or copolymer vinyl ether (machine translation paragraph [0019]). The resin layer contains silica particles with a particles size of 0.001 μm to 0.2 μm (machine translation paragraph [0015]).

The preambles "display film," "display," "display filter," "front protector panel" and "plasma display" are deemed to be a statement with regard to the intended use and is not further limiting in so far as the structure of the product is concerned. In article claims, a claimed intended use must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. MPEP § 2111.02. Furthermore, JP '457 discloses the laminated film is a display screen (machine translation paragraph [0001]).

Art Unit: 1772
